HOMECOMING

1980

"The Sixties"

"Where were you in the 60's?" Shepherd College students, faculty, and alumni honored that memorable decade as they took off in full swing during the annual homecoming festivities. Homecoming '80 looked back at the 60's on October 11-12 with numerous activities.

To start the Homecoming events, a spirited pep rally was held on Friday evening in the amphitheatre. Along with the cheerleaders, students were urged to perform original cheers to add to the excitement. The amateur talent was followed by the distribution of small tokens of appreciation presented to the players and coaches.

The 60's theme was carried out later that night at a bonfire held behind Thatcher Hall. Music of this memorable age was provided by Charlie Chiamardis which added a reminiscent touch to the excitement.

Saturday morning the chariot races were held on the football field. The invented devices displayed the creative talents of the participants. What was yet to come later that day made Homecoming worth the while.

The big game Saturday afternoon exhibited the theme of the rebellious 60's as the Ram's took on the Salem College Tigers. Like the 60's, the Ram's were out to get what they deserved, and indeed, they did. The final score of 28-7 proved the motto of "Ram Power."

Half-time entertainment featured the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Kathy Jones, along with the recognition of her court, including: Denise Ayers, Susie Hatter, Beth McNally, and Sharon Beaulieu. Representative from the Junior class was Gage Sheridan, Amy McNally represented the Sophomore class, and Laura Wells was the Freshman representative. SC president, James Butcher, took the honor of presenting Miss Jones with her title, as well as acknowledging her court.

The annual Homecoming dance ended the weekend with entertainment provided by "After Six." This formal event completed the sensational weekend enjoyed by Shepherd students.

WINTER

WINTER CARNIVAL '81

Ah, Yes! Winter Carnival '81, an event students eagerly await on their return back from winter break. In its sixth year, W.C. has sort of become a tradition that students look forward to in breaking up the winter blues.

Starting out W.C. '81 on Wednesday, Feb. 4th, everyone "slid" into the pub for Ski Lodge Pub Nite. Dressed in sweaters, boots, and toboggans, students sat around a glowing fireplace enjoying S'mores and hot cider.

Thursday night rolled around and what's more appropriate than the traditional Country Barn Dance? This was held in the den, and like last year, "The Johnson Mountain Boys" entertained for the evening along with caller, Carl O'Dell. Dungarees, plaid shirts, boots, and bandanas set the atmosphere for this roof-raising event that everyone loved.

On Friday, after two nights of laid-back and casual events, students put away their jeans and pulled out their "formal duds." At 4:30, a "Premium Dinner" was served in the S.C. dining hall. Following their "munch out," students dropped by the semi-formal dance, "The Snow Ball," to check out the performing band, "41 East."

What other event could be held on Saturday night other than the traditional Casino? This event where students gambled their play money away got the biggest turn out of all. It's no wonder - this is the time students can really prove themselves at Black Jack, 7 Up-7 Down, Roulette, and Five-Card Stud. A little break in the evening at the Casino was the Magic Show. At 10 p.m. Phil Heckman performed, and like last year, he succeeded in leaving many students in total amazement.

Come Sunday, "The Gong Show," an event that was new to all, was held. Dr. Howard Carper and V.J. Brown were M.C.'s for this hilarious event. Some "real Talent" was displayed by some of the contestants, as well as wit and humor by others. All in all, the events proved to be equally entertaining to everyone. Upon the closing of The Gong Show came the closing of W.C. '81 as well. These five days of games, dances, and fun helped give students a bit more spirit and an extra little "push" to get them through that long winter semester ahead of them.

MISS SHEPHERD COLLEGE PAGEANT '81

With 25 young ladies, all as pretty as flowers, it's no wonder the theme of this year's Miss Shepherd College Pageant was "The Rose."

All contestants were busy preparing themselves weeks ahead of time for this big event. On Saturday, April 11th, all the girls had to be up and ready pretty early for a personality judging with whom else, but the Pageant Judges. Monday, April 13th, was the big night for the contestants - the night they had to go out on stage to be watched by not only the judges, but their friends and families as well! Starting out the show was the Shepherd College Jazz Ensemble, and Glen Presgraves of WHAG-TV, served as Master of Ceremonies. The girls all modeled casual wear, followed by the swim suit and evening gown competition.

This year was a little unusual because there were seven finalists chosen, instead of five, due to a tie by the judges. Now, the moment everyone has been waiting for - Miss Shepherd College! And the winner was . . . Marie LoScazo, Miss Turner Hall. First runner-up was Donna Newman, Miss Cheerleader; and Sue LaVigne, Miss Delta Zeta was second runner-up. The four finalists were: Julie Maugins, Miss Tau Kappa Epsilon; Patty Reynolds, Miss Gardiner Hall; Debbie Keller, representing Botler Hall; and Miss Fine Arts, Gina DeMatteis.

All seven finalists received roses and a trophy as keepsakes of the Miss Shepherd College Pageant. Marie will proceed to the Miss West Virginia Pageant where she will compete for the W. Va. title.

In it's 9th year, the Miss Shepherd College Pageant has become another event that everyone looks forward to. The Pageant is sponsored by the Theta Xi Fraternity, and this year the Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity Brothers lent a helping hand.

CREATIVE ARTS CENTER

FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS

Undoubtedly, one of the most exciting events in the history of Shepherd College was the Festival of the Arts at our newly completed Creative Arts Center. The dedication of this modernistically designed building marked the beginning of a new era for photography, commercial art, music, and drama students. Equipped with many luxuries, the Creative Arts Center will prove to be an asset to many students. Abandoning the dungeons of Knutti Hall, students will be blessed with such luxuries as a darkroom large enough to actually walk around in, an auditorium with soft, plush seating, a commercial art room that will finally accommodate all of its students, and enough music rooms to keep any musician content.

Throughout March, April, and May in celebration of our new Creative Arts Center, appearances were made by many nationally known, as well as local artists, musicians, and speakers. The performances and lectures served as entertainment and a learning experience to students, faculty, and residents of the community. The Festival featured such musicians as: Pianist, Peter Nero, Central Heat, The Annapolis Brass Quintet, as well as the Air Force Band and Singing Sergeants. Other appearances included: Herb Lubalin and Rudolph deHarak, both nationally known graphic designers, photo-realist, Richard Estes, Wilson Key, author of "Subliminal Seduction: Manipulation by Ad Men," and nationally recognized photographers such as Jay Maisel, Burk Uzzle, Duane Michals, and Harry Callahan.

The long-awaited Creative Arts Center will be put into use in the fall of 1981. Hopefully, the facilities of the Center will enable students to reach new horizons in their fields of study.

FOOTBALL

In the pre-season poll, the Rams were listed to have a mediocre season. But through Walter Barr's hard work and determination, the 1980 version of Ram football held true to the winning tradition established by the head coach and his valuable assistants nine years ago. The Ram's Saturday battles won them national acclaim in the NAIA's top twenty ranked teams all season long, being ranked as high as 10th in the national poll.

The Rams bumped and bruised their way through the 11 game season to salvage what the head coach called a very satisfying year. A hard hitting defense with a solid running and passing offense marked the year that gained recognition for some of the top stars for the 1980 season.

Eight Ram footballers were named to the WVIAC All Conference Team. Three Rams were named to the first team and five to the second team.

George Snowden, a 6-3, 235 lb., and Charles Pierce, a 5-11, 216 lb. center, were named to the All WVIAC offensive first team. Big George Snowden signed with the Denver Broncos, and will attempt to join former Ram Wayne Wilson in the pro ranks.

Charles Pierce was a rare three time selection who earned those honors, along with being named to the first team All American in the NAIA.

Mike Essis, a 6-1, 218 lb. tackle was the only Ram named to the All-WVIAC defensive first team. Essis had a tackle average of 10.3 per game that led him to be named honorable mention All American.

Named to the All Conference offensive second team was tight end Miguel Bueso, and Shepherd's best passing quarterback in years, Glen Ryhanich, who threw for 52% in gaining 793 yards.

Named to the All-WVIAC defensive second team were freshman noseguard Mark Brower, linebacker Gene Lugat, and Eric Hofstetter, defensive back. The Rams finished the 1980 season with a 7-3-1 record. As WVIAC Northern Division champions, Shepherd was defeated in the Coal Bowl by Concord College, 19-0.

Shepherd basketball in 1980-81 proved to be a rebuilding year for the Rams, although suffering through a 9-18 season.

Despite the Ram's record, members of the team were recognized for their outstanding performances. Among them was Antoine Makle, who led the team in scoring 20 times with a 23.6 average. Makle's 23.6 point average for 27 games, a total of 638 points, set a WVIAC record for freshmen. Another Ram, Mark Palmer, leading rebounder of 21 games and scoring seven times during the season was among the outstanding team members. Palmer was also named honorable mention All WVIAC. A third Ram, Keith Adams, was also commended upon his contributions to the team. Adams dealt 236 assists for an 8.7 average, leading all team members, and setting a school record for total assists.

With these three men returning, and the further development of the remaining team and incoming freshmen, coach Bob Starkey must reel optimistic about the 1981-82 season.

BASKETBALL

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Head basketball coach, Anne Jones, did not get the wins she had hoped for during the season. The up and down Lady Rams struggled through the season winning 9 out of 24 games.

With experience returning for the coming season, Jones has to be looking for better things to come in women's basketball. This year's top performers were Jenny Hawbacker, Margaret Sears, and senior Peachy Meadows.

Hawbacker led the team in rebounds for the season and led the team in scoring in five games.

Margret Sears was the leading scorer for the Rams. Sears was the top scorer in 10 games on the season, averaging 16 points per game.

Guard Peachy Meadows dished valuable assistance, along with being a capable scorer.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

Shepherd's Lady Ram Volleyball team added another step to the ladder of a successful season. The squad went up against the opposition 57 times in 24 matches, winning 26 in 11 wins, and dropping 31 in 13 losses during the up and down season.

The Rams fought hard during the long campaign, coming up short in seven two point losses of the 31 misfires.

Climbing a step closer each year towards the .500 mark, head coach, Bev Holden, should feel good about the play of the rising underclassmen. Freshman players B. Blose, S. Gowans, M. Molsky, G. Moffit, and super sophomores Tracy Schnieder, Rita Molesworth, and Charlotte Ashton gained valuable experience for the season of 1981.

Top players of the season were all-star senior co-captain, Sally Kerr, junior co-captain, Donna Volack, Rita Molesworth, Tracy Schneider, Barb Blose, with alternates Swanson, Ashton, and Molsky.

Characterized by head coach Roger Parker as a team that was "just learning," the Shepherd Lady Rams Tennis team finished its 1980 season with a 2-8 overall record and tied for last place in the W.Va. Conference Tournament.

The tennis squad opened the season with a win over Hood College, 7-2, then traveled to Fairmont and dropped the Falcons 6-3 for the only two wins of the season. Parker commented, "We feel we will have a much better team next year."

Winning three points at the season ending tourney were Joanna Heckman with a singles win, and a doubles win by Heckman and Kim Cowdon.

The squad lost three players via graduation; Heckman, Cowdon, and Janet Heneghan. The remainder of the team was Michelle Gallagher, Megan Hennessey, Lori Hoover, and Susie Myers.

Ram baseball turned out to be a foul ball for first year coach Dean Pease. The Rams picked up four wins against 27 defeats. Hoping their luck would change, the Rams battled hard in hopes of saving the season.

Mike Falkenhan picked up Shepherd's first win on the season. The curve balling right hander stopped Tech 3-1. On that same day, Chuck Holmes won the Rams their only double hitter on the card with a 7-1 victory.

It was 12 games before the team could come up with a win. This time Rick LaFollette got the win over Alderson-Broaddus on a 6-2 count. Mike Falkenhan got his second win of the season against Mt. St. Mary's by the score of 7-2. The Diehl brothers, Steve and David, were the heavy hitters for the 1981 season.

SWIMMING

A Swimming Spectacular - that's the only way to describe the Ram's swimming teams of 1980-81.

The Shepherd College women's swimming team capped an undefeated 12-0 regular season with a third place finish in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Swimming and Diving Championships in Liberty, Mo.

The Shepherd College men's swimming team compiled a 9-5 regular season and finished 18th in the nation in the NAIA Swimming and Diving Championship also in Liberty, Mo.

Overall, Shepherd brought back six All-Americans to the Eastern Panhandle - five women and one man. Kathy Etzel, Tracy Liner, Cathy Blair, Mary Verna, and Karen Workman became the first women All-Americans in Shepherd history. Duncan Morrell was the Ram's second men's swimming team All-American in the school's history.

"This year we had better swimmers and harder workers by far," Shepherd Swimming Coach, Rick Gibson said. "The men improved dramatically over the course of the season. The women have always been good; I knew they had potential."

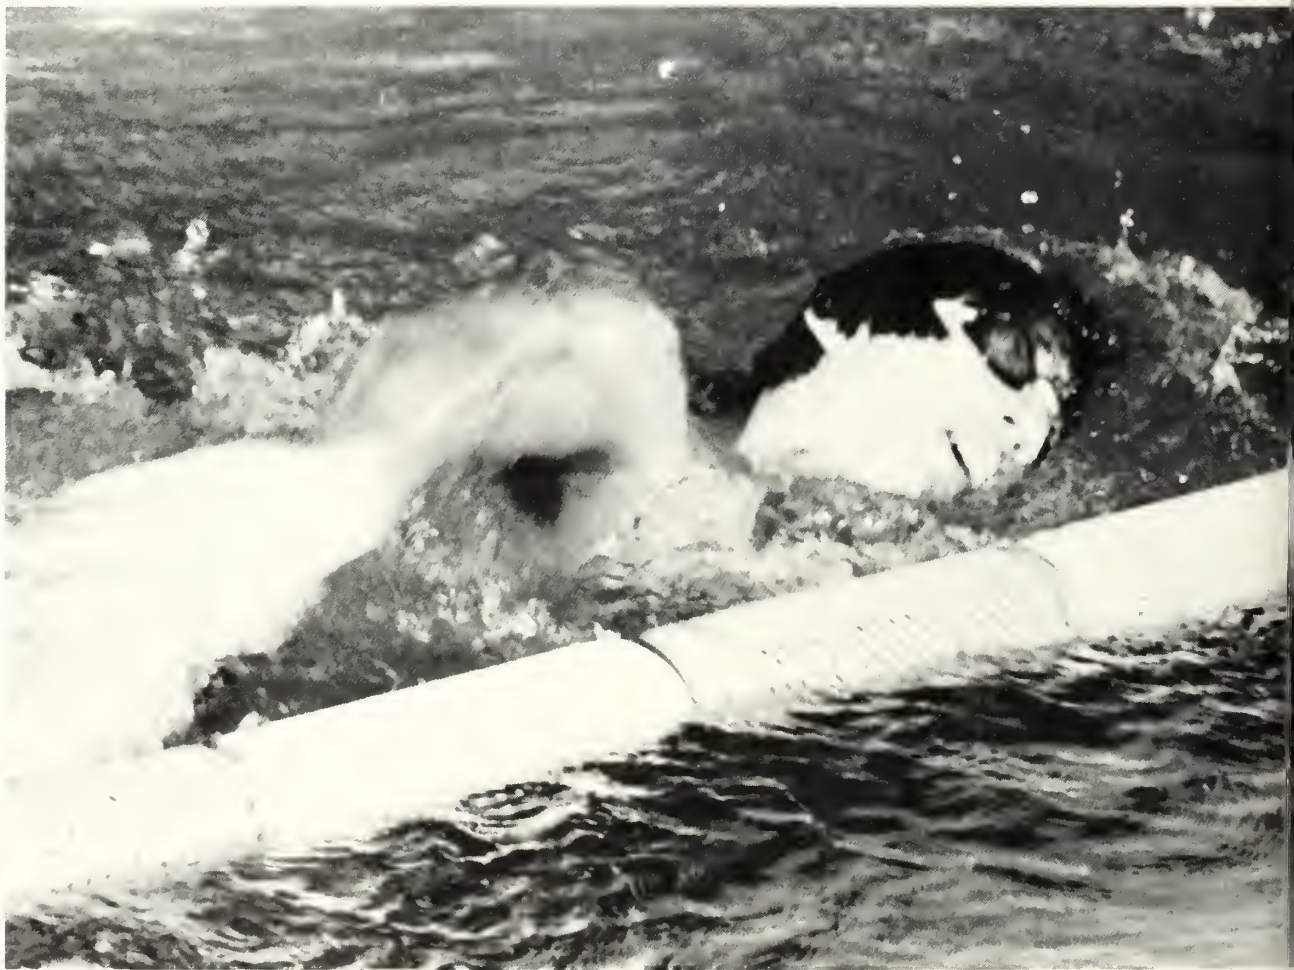

Team effort was a key element in the success of both teams throughout the season. Both teams were blessed with unbelievable point scoring depth up and down the roster.

Teamwork, dedication, hard work, excellent coaching, and that driving desire to be successful all added up to produce the banner year in the history of Shepherd College Swimming.

In regards to the future of the Shepherd Swimming program - it looks brighter than the North Star. Many super athletes are returning along with a strong cast of recruited incoming freshmen. Indeed, it looks as though a men's or women's NAIA National Swimming Championship is on the way for Shepherd College.

FACULTY

"THE DIVISION THAT CHARLIE BUILT"

Most students probably know of Professor "Charlie" Printz, yet few know of the hard work and long years this man has dedicated to Shepherd College's business department to make it the success that it is today. Now, after 34 years as a professor and chairman of the Division of Business Administration, Professor Printz will be retiring in the spring.

Even though retiring from Shepherd College, Printz will still be going strong with such activities as his Certified Public Accounting firm, an oil product distributorship, and a grain, feed and farm machinery business. As if that's not enough to keep him busy, Printz maintains his own farm, and also has a partnership in another farm.

Born in Jefferson County, W. Va., Printz attended Charles Town High School, and graduated in 1936. He then proceeded to study at Shepherd, graduating in 1940. In 1941, Printz taught business at Berkeley Springs High School. He later received his MBA at W.Va. University and did post-graduate study in the University of N.C., American University, and the University of Sidney Australia.

1947 rolled around and Printz found himself back at Shepherd College, only this time as a professor. At the time, the business department in Knutti Hall only offered a straight degree in business administration, and Printz taught most of the classes. Finally, by the 1950's, Shepherd had established a Division of Business Administration with Professor Printz as the chairman. The Division now offered majors in business administration, marketing, accounting, and business education. From that point on, with Charlie Printz as the first division chairman, Shepherd's business department expanded continuously.

Of course, today everyone knows of the many degrees and courses offered to business students that now attend Shepherd College. And indeed, the curriculum has expanded immensely in the past 30 years, thanks to Shepherd's one and only Charlie Printz.

"MR. MILLER'S MILESTONE"

Floyd W. Miller, head librarian at Shepherd College, will also be retiring this spring along with Charles Printz. He has been at Shepherd for the past 19 years and has seen the many changes that have taken place, including the construction of a new library.

In 1938, Miller received his bachelor of arts degree from Findlay College in Ohio. He also obtained his bachelor's in library science and master's in history in 1940 and 1941 from Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio. Miller received yet another degree, a master in science, in the university of Illinois. In addition to his many degrees, Mr. Miller is active in a number of professional groups such as the W.Va. Library Assoc., American Library Assoc., and Association of College and Research Library.

In 1962, when Miller came to Shepherd, the library was on the first floor of Knutti Hall. An old co-troom served as his office. There were only 32,000 books in the library, yet the room was much too small to handle anymore books.

When Miller arrived at his new job as librarian at Shepherd, he also had the job of planning for the construction of the new library. His responsibilities included overseeing the building of the library, and organizing the transition from the old to the new library.

Upon its completion in 1965, the brand new library was now ready for use. And who do you think moved those 32,000 books from Knutti Hall to the new library? Students of course! Books were carried by the armload for three-and-a-half hours. At, last, Shepherd College had a real library.

Along with the new library came the expansion of the books, audio-visual equipment, microfilm, periodicals, and the budget. All these improvements were overseed by Miller.

Today, the Shepherd College Library is a valuable resource to not only students, but the community as well. We owe many thanks to Mr. Miller for his many years of work and dedication to Shepherd College.

"IN MEMORY OF THE COLONEL"

Colonel Edmond R. Urquhart, known to many as just "The Colonel," passed away on March 1, 1981. The Colonel had been with Shepherd College for the past seven-and-a-half years. In 1972, he served as head resisent of Boteler Hall, and later became the director of residence hall services. But, probably most students remember the Colonel wandering around the Student Center where he served as assistant director. In January of 1980, the Colonel retired from Shepherd. Prior to his work at Shepherd, Colonel Urquhart served 31 years in the U.S. Army.
